

Kids with character

Kaitlynn Dunn, a fifth-grader at Saints Cosmas and Damian School in Summit County, exemplifies the character pillar of caring. While at school, Kaitlynn is a member of the safety patrol, looking out for the welfare of the other students and making sure that the younger children are on the correct bus. She also plays soccer, basketball, volleyball and softball. Kaitlynn is active in the community. While most of her volunteer work is with the Girl Scouts, she also is involved with Meals on Wheels with her mother and with St. Catherine's, a church on the west side of Cleveland. Kaitlynn participates in the Twinsburg Relay for Life, and this past year, she sold wristbands to help sponsor a team and raise money for the American Cancer Society. In addition, she helps with general fund-raising for the Twinsburg Fire Department. Her desire to help comes from her belief in doing the right thing, and she is kind, caring and respectful to all those around her.

Thank you, Kaitlynn, for being such a caring person.

Kaitlynn
