Brandon

Brandon Farr, who recently completed the 7th grade at Roswell Kent Middle School, has displayed the character traits of caring and trustworthiness during the past school year. Brandon worked in the school's guidance office and often visited his teachers' classrooms to see if they needed any assistance. He would run errands, help with various tasks and help other students with their assignments. Brandon has been described by several of his teachers as being one of the most caring, reliable, responsible, respectful and conscientious students they have ever had.

Thank you Brandon, for being such a positive role model and having such a great attitude.
