

Kids with character

Akron
Children's Hospital

Ashton Sanner, a student at Schrop Intermediate School, is a caring and responsible student. During the past school year, Ashton has volunteered to be a peer tutor, giving up her free time and her recess time in order to help other students. She demonstrates extreme patience while working with students and never criticizes them for not understanding the material. She takes her job as a peer tutor very seriously and cares about helping others. Ashton always completes her own work and finds joy in everything she does.

Thank you Ashton for being such a responsible and caring person.

Ashton
