Susan

Susan Sedlacko, who recently graduated from Fairlawn Elementary School, has demonstrated the character pillars of caring and responsibility. Instead of spending her lunch and recess time with friends, Susan decided to become a lunch monitor for the kindergarten class. Susan would often eat her lunch standing up and walking around so that she would be accessible to the kids whenever they needed something. Not only did she monitor their activities during recess time, but she also interacted with them by playing games. Susan gladly took on this role even though it meant taking away from her own free time.

Thank you Susan, for being such a caring and responsible role model to younger students.
